Hi, Here is my write up that we were all asked to do from the last Clinic. Thank you!

I always look so forward to going to a Lendon Gray clinic because I always know I'm going to improve so much and bring back new knowledge. The clinics are always so fun too. In a normal clinic, on Saturday you have a little lecture with Lendon usually, where we introduce ourselves, talk about where you are, and where you're from. When were in our lessons you usually sit, take notes, and watch unless you're tacking up. When it is 12-12:30 we have lunch and a lecture On Saturday we had a lecture with Alicia Torrey-Peters about buying a young horse. That was probably one of my favorite lectures yet. After that we would have more lessons until 4:30 then we would have another lecture at the end of the day with Jane Karol.

on Sunday we start a little earlier. The lecture this morning was with Patti Kuzmickas about what you should have in your med kit and how to use it. After the lecture ended we would start lessons. Lessons start at 8:00 am and go until 11:45, then we had lunch and a lecture with Hope Cooper after that lessons would start up again and go til 3:00. Sadly at 3:00 the clinic finished. I had so much fun that weekend and learned so much it made feel like such an accomplished rider.
